Orinda Honors Its Own at Festive Awards Dinner in March

By SALLY HOGARTY Editor

On March 11, the Orinda Community Foundation (OCF) and The Orinda Association (OA) sponsored a gala awards dinner at the Orinda Country Club to honor Janet Riley as Orinda's Citizen of the Year and James Phillip Wright as the 2017 William Penn Mott, Jr. Environmental Award winner.

SALLY HOGARTY Wm. Penn Mott Jr., Environmental Award Winner James Wright is awarded a proclamation by District II Supervisor Candace Andersen.

A capacity crowd welcomed the honorees, which also included special recognition awards for long-time volunteers Jim Luini and Carol Penskar.

Sponsored by the OCF, the Citizen of the Year Award was given to Riley in recognition of her 28-plus years of volunteer work in Orinda. Riley spent 10 years working with Orinda schools in many capacities as well as president of the Educational Foundation of Orinda. She is also active with Santa Maria Church, where she has been working with Catholic Charities and various other organizations to sponsor and support a family that was relocated from Burma to the United States, and with the Orinda Garden Club. Currently, Riley is busy as the co-chair of the Flower Show in San Francisco, which takes place April 28-29 at the Hyatt Regency Embarcadero in San Francisco. Over 600 members of 200 clubs affiliated with The Garden Club of America (GCA) are expected to attend.

Wright, an architect specializing in solar, was honored with the William Penn Mott, Jr. Environmental Award by The Orinda Association for his work on restoring and renovating the Old Yellow House at 209 Orinda Way. Built in 1890, the house is now a learning center for geo-solar passive houses.

"I love the Mott award," said California State Assembly member Catharine Baker. "It is a one of its kind." Orinda City Councilmember Inga Miller added, "This is such important work that we can all learn from."

Wright is currently working with the City of Orinda to get the Old Yellow House designated as a museum and cultural center. "It is truly a learning center that promotes sustainable stewardship of the Earth," said Wright.

New Plan for Orinda Community Center Park Re-Visited

By VALERIE COLBUR and SALLY HOGARTY Staff Writers

The Parks and Recreation Department unveiled renovation plans for the Orinda Community Center Park at the March 6 City Council meeting. Given the number of residents questioning those plans, the department will be making a number of revisions and resubmitting to the City Council.

Originally proposed in April 2013, Capital Improvement Project #4112 initially encompassed improving the Orinda Community Park restrooms and rehabilitating the existing park gazebo. As staff prepared the scope of the project, it became apparent that several other amenities in the park were at, or nearing, the end of their useful life. These include play structures, pathways and picnic areas.

In June 2016, the City of Orinda executed a contract with Callander Associates Landscape Architecture, Inc., for the purpose of design and development of an overall master plan for Orinda Community Park. Callandar conducted three public meetings with the Parks and Recreation Commission, including one with the Parks and Recreation Foundation and produced several revisions of the draft master plan. At the time, the estimated construction costs were approximately $2.6 million.

The proposed park design includes four [SEE PARK page 4]

Gallery: 12th Arts Ambassadors Exhibit for Lamorinda

By ELANA O'LOSKEY Staff Writer

The Educational Foundation of Orinda (EFO), Lafayette Partners in Education (LPIE) and the Lamorinda Arts Council (LAC) are proud to present artwork, music and choral performances of talented K-12 students from all communities in Lamorinda from March 27 through April 30 in the Art Gallery at the Orinda Library. Artwork from Orinda students is on display from March 27 through April 15. Artwork from Lafayette and Moraga students is on display from April 16 to April 30.

For the first time, the Arts Ambassadors' exhibit showcases student art in two segments because of the volume of work - 400 total artworks. There are two Arts Ambassadors receptions at the gallery to match the exhibit dates the artwork is being displayed. The first, "Celebration of the Arts Reception," is sponsored by the EFO for Orinda students on April 12 from 4:30 to 6 p.m. The second reception is on April 17 from 4 to 6 p.m. for Lafayette and Moraga students.

About 200 pieces of artwork from Orinda K-12 schools are on exhibit from March 27 through April 15. The show was curated by all Orinda Union School District (OUSD) art teachers in collaboration with the EFO. Benedicte Streubel, EFO vice president of events, Lori Brook, EFO visual and performing arts coordinator from Miramonte, and David Wilson of Wagner Ranch and Del Rey were the main organizers. The exhibit includes artwork from every Orinda Union School District art studio (grades 1-8) and some from Miramonte High School students as well. The Orinda [SEE GALLERY page 7]

These two young artists had a great time with family and friends at a recent Arts Ambassadors reception where every artist received an Arts Ambassadors badge.

THE ORINDA ASSOCIATION

A Message From the OA President Keep Orinda Beautiful

Cindy Powell

Some "bunny" is going to get fooled on April 1 with the two special days, Easter and April Fool's Day, crossing paths.

Head to the Farmers Market on Saturday. You may be first in line because Spring Break for our school districts is the first week of April, and Orinda might be very quiet with families gone to the snow or sun.

On April 6, begin the day with Walk to Work Day or take a walk another time during this day. Add a 30-minute walk to your daily routine and significantly improve your overall health. End the day with the Rotary/Chamber Trivia Bee. Teams of six get dinner and the chance to win $500 for the non-profit of their choice. Orinda Chamber can set up your group or help get a group together if you don't have a full team. Register online at Orindachamber.org.

Do you feel lucky? It's Friday the 13th. Not the movie – just that the 13th falls on a Friday in April.

Followed by the April 14 Miramonte Junior Prom. It's all about the dress.

April 16 is Stress Awareness Day. It was established so that you would not only be aware of stress but also learn how to cope with life's trying events and people. Fitting, since there's a chance you might be doing last minute tax prep that day. Why is the deadline for filing your 2017 return on Tuesday, April 17? Because April 15 is a Sunday and Washington D.C. has a holiday on Monday when the District celebrates Emancipation Day (Lincoln's freeing of the slaves in 1862). So, Tax Day is on Tuesday.

Keep Orinda beautiful by helping out at Orinda Action Day on April 21, sponsored by the Orinda Community Foundation. There's something for everyone, so find a project and join the fun. At the same event, The Orinda Association will set up the Volunteer Fair in the Library Plaza. Come and say "hello" and take note of all the non-profits and volunteer groups available in your town. Go to our website and get more info.

Celebrate Earth Day on April 22 with honey bees, baby goats and turtles at the Wagner Ranch Nature Area's (WRNA) [SEE PRESIDENT page 7]

Orinda City Council Does Some Excellent Work

Congratulations to the Orinda City Council – including its Mayor and City Councilmember Amy Worth – for opposing a State Senate bill that would, if enacted, forever change the look of Orinda.

On Feb. 23, 2018, Ms. Worth sent a letter to State Senator Scott Wiener (D-San Francisco), who is sponsoring Senate Bill 827 (SB 827), which, according to Mayor Worth's letter, "... would exempt certain housing projects from locally developed and adopted height limitations, densities, parking requirements and design review standards."

Ms. Worth's letter follows the fine tradition established by former Mayor and City Councilmember Eve Phillips, who on August 18, 2017, wrote a letter to members of the state legislature. Ms. Phillips' letter opposed Senate Bill 35 (of 2017) – legislation, that at the time the letter was written, would have interfered with Orinda's landuse policies. Supporting Ms. Phillips letter were Councilmembers Worth, Inga Miller, Dean Orr and Darlene Gee.

SB 827 (of 2018) is a State of California land grab that would give the state control over a local community's land within onequarter mile of a frequently-used bus route and one-half mile from a railroad station (like a BART station). The land could be used to construct buildings as high as 85 feet.

SB 827 would apply to virtually all California cities, not just Orinda.

In her letter, Mayor Worth said, "The City of Orinda prides itself on an open, transparent and thorough review process for new development projects . . ."

For too many years, the state, like an imperialist power, has told local communities how to use their land.

now to use their land. Orindans must be constantly vigilant, making sure that Orinda is not a colony of Sacramento or anywhere else.

Love Orinda Library

I love our library, rain or shine! It's filled with books, magazines and other periodicals I enjoy perusing in a cozy window seat with the sun streaming in or in a comfy chair by the fireplace. Being able to reserve and check out books that I have heard or read reviews about benefits my pocketbook considerably. I'm so glad this wonderful resource is open for all seven days a week and want to make sure it continues to maintain its current hours. Please join me by voting Yes on the library parcel tax in June.

different options, each with slight modifications: the location of the bandstand; the alignment of the pathway and bio swale (lawn area) south of the tennis courts; the park entry from Orinda Way; and seating at the bocce courts.

Funding for the design and construction of the project has not been secured. Following adoption of the Master Plan, different funding sources will be sought and may include such avenues as local foundations, park bonds and/or private donors.

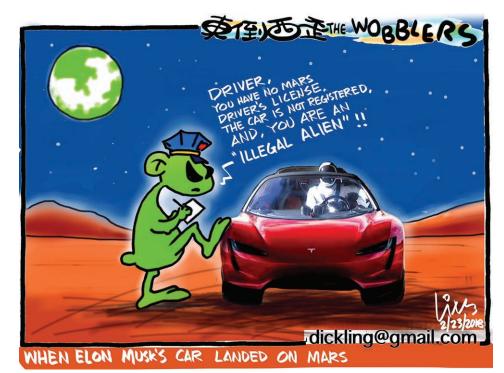

Fourteen residents spoke at the March 6 City Council meeting about the proposed master plan. "There is a glaring omission in the architectural designs presented tonight: Lack of the historical knowledge and culture of the park," said speaker Steve Anderson.

Past mayor Laura Abrams added, "I'm proud to say I am a 45-year resident of the community. As an elected official, I always believe your first responsibility when you are sitting up on the dais is to do no harm. I am enthusiastic about the challenging task ahead of you to revitalize the park, but I would encourage you to recognize the value of the current uses and, frankly, plead Orinda Starlight Village Players (OrSVP) adjacent to the park amphitheater. OrSVP (www.orsvp.org) has presented live theater in the amphitheater for the past 35 years.

OrSVP patrons and Orinda residents Joan and John Cahill felt building new restrooms in a different location away from the outdoor amphitheater would be a hardship for patrons. "I'm all for improving the restrooms, but if we take away the bathroom from the performance area, and the kiosk for tickets and treats, we will take away our ability to enjoy the performances," said Joan Cahill.

Several other speakers noted the many contributions OrSVP has made to the community over the years through its performances in the park, its willingness to perform at a variety of community fundraisers and its policy of supporting local restaurants by offering discounts on admission to patrons who dine locally prior to a performance as well as free tickets to residents at Orinda Senior Village.

The replacement of the multi-sport court next to the tennis courts with a bocce ball court also produced a negative reaction from those in attendance at the March 6 meeting. Laura Abrams, tennis coach Drew Dietenbach and Todd Nyman explained how important and frequently used the multi-sport court is.

Are All Brake Jobs Created Equal?

By JOHN VANEK

We receive many phone calls inquiring about the cost of a brake job. The price of a brake job varies depending on what type brake service your vehicle requires. We really don't know what kind of brake job you need until a complete inspection can be performed which makes price shopping for a brake job tricky.

What you need to do is shop for a good repair shop that is trustworthy and is known for using quality parts. Often the phone quote that is much less expensive than the other quotes is the one that is using substandard parts. The overseas brake parts that are available do not offer the same quality or the same results, but they cost much less.

The friction material is crucial for many reasons including brake noise, pedal vibration and longevity. It is especially crucial on European vehicles. We usually select brake components that are original equipment or equal. This means they offer the similar friction material even though they don't come in the factory box. The raw materials from some countries do not equal what came on the vehicle. This is why we call these type of brake jobs sub-standard. The process is also very important when performing a brake job. The parts must be properly disassembled, cleaned and lubricated. Failing to take the time to perform a proper brake job will affect the long-term outcome.

How you drive and where you drive makes a difference about how long brakes last. Here in Orinda and other parts of Lamorinda, the majority of the homes are located in the hills. Some of my customers need to apply the brakes as soon as they leave their driveway. If you drive down a long hill every day, it is okay to shift your transmission down a gear. If it is a steep hill, it is okay for most vehicles with automatic transmissions to select "2" on your shifter. This will allow you to use the vehicle's engine speed to help slow the vehicle. Some folks make a lot of short trips that will increase brake wear. We also need to remember that having your foot covering the brake pedal is actually applying the brakes, if only slightly. We call this "riding the brakes."

As your vehicle gains miles, other components become worn and will affect the brake wear. When the struts or shocks on your vehicle start to lose their dampening, it will literally take longer to stop versus the car that has new struts/shocks. This extra stopping time will heat up the brakes, thereby reducing effectiveness and warping the brake components. Warped brakes will cause a shudder sensation under braking. Most vehicles will realize the effects of worn struts/shock close to the 100,000 mile marker. Since most vehicles will last over 100,000 miles, the investment is often warranted.

When picking a shop to perform a brake job, it is always best to pick a place that you trust and know for its quality. Like I always say, the key to having a good auto repair experience is picking a good facility.

ORINDA ACTION DAY

Tenth Annual Orinda Action Day

By SALLY HOGARTY Editor

On April 21, community volunteers will once again take on projects around Orinda as part of the annual Orinda Action Day. Individuals and groups will meet at the Orinda Library Plaza beginning at 9:30 a.m. before going out on assigned tasks.

Sponsored by the Orinda Community Foundation in partnership with the City of Orinda, Action Day brings local residents together as they pick up trash, weed flower beds and work on a variety of civic projects around the downtown area. This year's chairpersons are Pat Rudebusch and Cassandra Forth.

"This is a time when our city comes together to not only clean and foster civic involvement but to showcase what a wonderful, friendly community Orinda represents," says former Mayor and founder of Orinda Action Day Sue Severson.

Rudebusch and Forth encourage volunteers of all ages, especially families, to sign up for Action Day. It all begins in the Library Plaza, 26 Orinda Way, at 9:30 a.m. where fruit, snacks and coffee will be served. An arts and crafts station for young volunteers will be available. Local businesses are also encouraged to participate by cleaning up their store exteriors and by planting seasonal flowers.

The Orinda Association (OA) will also to the public.

The "Wonders of the West" theme refers to topics that include the western sky, forests, deserts and waters. The purpose of the nonprofit GCA's flower shows is to set standards of artistic and horticultural excellence; to broaden the knowledge of horticulture, floral design, conservation, photography and other related areas; and to share the beauty of a show with fellow club members and the public. Participating GCA Zone XII clubs come from the states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, New Mexico, Oregon and Washington.

Over thirty accredited GCA judges will use a scale of points for entries in five divisions, each with their own lighting and staging area in the Atrium. Judges will award first, second and third ribbons in each division as well as some ten special awards including best of show. The five divisions include Floral Design, Horticulture, Photography, Botanical Arts and a Conservation and Education Exhibit. Botanical Arts utilizing identical plant material – quite a competition! There are over 150 botanical entries from all over the country in the five divisions. Container-grown plants have to come from California as grown plants can't legally enter from outside the state. GCA members with plants from outside California are submitting their entries via photographs.

Gail Emmons and Janet Riley of the Orinda Garden Club are co-chairing the event. Approximately 300 volunteers participate in the GCA annual meeting and flower show. Members from local GCA clubs contribute plants, spring flowers and cut specimens grown in Orinda, Piedmont, Marin, Hillsborough, Woodside-Atherton and Carmel. Riley says, "Seeing what's successful in local gardens encourages people to try something in their own gardens." Horticultural division sections of special interest include plants that are pollinators, have different types of leaves, and are succulents.

If you love a garden, "Wonders of the West" is the place to meet gardeners from all over the country while marveling at innovative floral designs, imaginative jewelry made from botanicals, and unusual specimens of flora. In short, fun! Go to www. orindagc.org for more information.

April is a busy month in our town; be involved and in touch with our beautiful Orinda. including arts education as part of the general curriculum. Since 2012, the EFO has sponsored all aspects of this exhibit in partnership with the LAC. Denise Nomura of the LAC says, "The LAC role in this exhibit is managing the gallery. We are thrilled to have all three communities participating to display their talented student artists in this professional art space under the umbrella of the Lamorinda Arts Council (see www. lamorindaarts.org for more information). Because of the EFO's support of the arts in our community, Orinda is one of only a few California public schools that is able to provide musical and visual arts enrichment programs to every student." For more information about the EFO, visit www. orindaefo.org.

Art students at all levels routinely use their creativity to problem solve and express their ideas. In the art room, children learn to observe and envision, to express and reflect, to engage and persist, to stretch and explore and ultimately to understand better the world around them. Lori Brook concludes, "This year we celebrate the creativity of all our students, from the exploration of elementary school children to the fine art produced by our high school students. We are very proud to display so many amazing pieces."

Visit the gallery not only to see the exhibit (and walk on the newly installed carpets) at 26 Orinda Way during normal library hours – Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The library is closed on April 1 for Easter. Springs Pool, later played water polo, and he "was the diving team" at Miramonte.

He went on to graduate from UOP and was a member of Omega Phi Alpha Fraternity. Active in student government, he maintained many friendships through his later life. He went on to Chapman University to earn his Master's Degree in Physical Therapy and spent the last 20 years in ergonomic consulting and dubbed himself "The Ergonomics Guy."

Married to April, Steve was proud to be a father to his two daughters, Bridget and Bailey. Son of the late Peter T. Meagher, he is survived by his mother, Nancy Meagher, brothers Brian and Mike and sister Kay. There are a number of other family members too numerous to name.

Steve spent the last several years running, swimming and doing some additional crazy things - riding a unicycle up Mt. Diablo and riding a Penny Farthing bicycle across California. Steve took up a few additional hobbies - he was a pilot, sailor and bagpipe player.

Steve is most noted for his incredible sense of humor and living life to the fullest. For all of his laughter and silliness, Steve was also a pillar of the Orinda community. He spent much of his time working to better his community - he was a board member of The Orinda Association and Oak Springs Pool and organized the Orinda 4th of July Parade. He was active in his daughters' school. He was the most genuine, caring person and he had a big impact on everyone he knew.

FILM / FESTIVAL

B ack in the day, double features were the norm. One would go out for the evening and not get back until midnight (later, if one of the features was Lawrence of Arabia or Gone with the Wind). In another sense, for years in Lamorinda we enjoyed our own double feature, with movies available at great community theaters in both Orinda and Rheem. Although that recently fell apart with the closing of the Rheem, the good news is that the Rheem has not been forgotten, nor has the effort to re-open that august edifice slackened in the least.

No one can predict the future but there is room for optimism. A recent March 14 Town of Moraga staff report surfaced optimism about the reopening of the Rheem Theatre with the possibility of approving a memo of understanding between Mahesh Puri, the owner of property, and the Town of Moraga relating to the transfer of ownership of the Rheem to the Moraga Community Foundation. There are many contingencies and possibilities which, hopefully, will be clarified and finalized for me to report upon in my next column. Still, for the present with only one theater operational, I have naught but the International Film Showcase and the Classic Free Movie Night to report on for now.

Taking the options in order of appearance, we'll start out with the International Film Showcase which, this month, offers us a 2017 Oscar submission from Lebanon.

Upon the surface, The Insult has a premise that could easily be taken for farce, but even the most cursory glance at this film should quickly disavow you of that notion. Taking place in an area of the world where joy is precious and tensions are always near the breaking point, the film gives us a front row seat to a seemingly harmless, albeit vitriolic, encounter between two men. Harsh words are hurled and steadfastly stood behind, neither side willing to apologize or retract. From that point on, escalation ensues, not only affecting the two combatants but everyone around them as well. Besides being universally praised, The Insult also provides a stark lesson in this day and age when reasoned even-handed discussions are few and far between and anger, misplaced self-preservation and just plain obstinacy are the rule of the day. In that, The Insult can be looked at as almost a moral fable and the lesson it teaches us could be one of avoidance and/or forbearance. For further information, please go to www.lamorindatheatres.com or www. internationalshowcase.org. It will have a one week engagement at the Orinda Theatre starting on April 6 at 7 p.m.

The next offering will prove no less nerve jangling, though the very presence of Audrey Hepburn may (and that's a big may) alleviate some of your anxiety. Wait until Dark is one of the great, if under appreciated, suspense films. Alfred Hitchcock is and always will be the undisputed master of the genre, but that hardly stopped other, just as talented, directors from dipping their toes in the same waters. Terence Young, who, by this time (1967) had already established himself as being quite adept at these sort of movies (he directed three James Bond Films) manages to keep us on the edge of our seats, and Ms. Hepburn lends her considerable talents to make sure we stay there. As a blind, apartment bound woman alone against a manic Alan Arkin, she holds her own until . . . April 12 at 7 p.m., which is when you'll be able to finish this sentence for yourself.

So, though the offerings aren't as numerous as they could be, there is a good double feature of sorts at the Orinda while remembering the Rheem. You can still stay in the dark since that's where the reel magic lies. public.

Orinda Starlight Village Players Announces 35th Season and Auditions

By David Dierks Assistant Editor

The Orinda Starlight Village Players (OrSVP) will hold season auditions on Tuesday, April 3, at the Orinda Community Center Carpentry Room at 7 p.m., and on Sunday, April 8, at the Orinda Community Center Park Amphitheater at 4 p.m. This all-volunteer group, which has been presenting live theater in Orinda for 35 years, is always looking for new volunteers, both on and off stage.

The first production of the season will be Agatha Christie's Spider's Web, directed by Suzan Lorraine. OrSVP is well known for its productions of Agatha Christie plays.

Lorraine has been directing the Christie shows for the past several years to great acclaim, carrying on the tradition set by OrSVP founder Charlotte Meyer. Lorraine will need a variety of adult ages for this show. Rehearsals begin in late April. Performance dates are June 1, 2, 7, 8, 9, 15, 16, 22, 23, 24, 29 and 30.

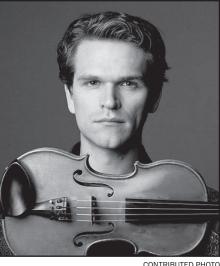

The second production of the season is Dave Freeman's Kindly Keep It Covered, directed by Malcolm Cowler. Cowler is a familiar face for OrSVP audiences, having been involved in over 35 productions, including his adaptations of L. Frank Baum's Wizard of Oz, Carlo Collodi's Pinocchio and Bram Stoker's [SEE STARLIGHT page 16]

Pacific Chamber Orchestra Presents Gershwin and More

In two April concerts, the first in nearby Lafayette, The Pacific Chamber Orchestra (PCO), under the direction of Maestro Lawrence Kohl, an Orinda resident and president of the Lamorinda Arts Council, will take audiences back to 1944 before the Internet, computers and even television to celebrate a time when radio was king. On Saturday, April 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lafayette Orinda Presbyterian Church (49 Knox, Lafayette) and Sunday, April 22, at 2 p.m. at the Bankhead Theatre (2100 First Street, Livermore), you will be able to enjoy an "American Radio Hour" concert program.

The program includes Scott Joplin's rag-time hit The Entertainer, George Gershwin's Lullaby for Strings, Charles Ives' Three Short Pieces, and Aaron Copland's Appalachian Spring. Copland focused his well-known, piece on the heart of American values as expressed in the Shaker melody: "'Tis the gift to be simple, 'tis the gift to be free."

Two-time Grammy winner jazz violinist Mads Tolling will also premiere a concerto for violin and chamber orchestra, Yggdrasil, commissioned by the Pacific Chamber Orchestra. Yggdrasil is the holy giant ash tree in Nordic mythology that is center to the cosmos. Its branches extend far into the heavens, and its roots go deep in the earth, connecting the nine Norse worlds. Part of the concerto will be based around the oldest written Scandinavian song, "I have Dreamed Me a Dream," found on a piece of wood written in Runes around 1300 just after the Viking age. As befitting America's diversity, Mads Tolling's Yggdrasil connects classical and

California Shakespeare's Summer Season Announced

By KATHRYN G. MCCARTY Staff Writer

Tt's time to break out your picnic baskets Land blankets and prepare for California Shakespeare Theater's 44th season. Season tickets will be available soon. The 44th season will include Quixote by Octavio Solis, adapted from Don Quixote by Miguel Cervantes (June 13 – July 1); the West Coast premiere of Everybody by Branden Jacobs-Jenkins (July 18 - August 5); and The War of the Roses, adapted from William Shakespeare's historical tetralogy covering Henry VI, parts 1, 2 and 3, and Richard III, (August 22 – September 9). Artistic Director Erik Ting says the company is excited about the upcoming season which includes "stories of visionary scope that speak as much to who we are as to who we've been." He adds, "We wanted new ways to celebrate the unique experience of the Bruns [the Cal Shakes venue], be they return engagements of popular productions or extraordinary events that we couldn't pass up. And so, we've created a concentrated subscription season filled with the epic work so many of our audiences crave, production of scale and scope and an audacious, uncompromising vision - a true summer at the Bruns."

Quixote, Solis' re-imagining of the literary classic, starts off the Cal Shakes season. It was originally commissioned by the Oregon Shakespeare Festival but conceived anew, setting La Mancha as a modern-day Texas border town. Filled with flights of fancy and Tejano tunes. Don Ouixote and his trusty sidekick Sancho ride into battle against dragons, evil enchanters, and illusions of the mind.

truth: everybody dies. When death comes knocking, one of six actors chosen randomly at the top of each performance seeks companionship for their final journey in an allegorical play that plumbs the depths of the human condition with surprising humor, heart, grace and dancing skeletons.

Rounding out the season is what Eric Ting describes as a Shakespearean event of epic proportions. The War of the Roses, spans four of Shakespeare's histories - the Henry VI trilogy and Richard III - delivering a fast-paced, far-ranging, vividly theatrical depiction of two powerful families [SEE CAL SHAKES page 18]

FIRST FRIDAY FORUM / FARMERS' MARKET

Forum Features Talk on Global Jihad

By BOBBIE DODSON Staff Writer

66 The Four Waves of Global Jihad" titles the talk which Glenn Robinson, Ph.D., will present at First Friday Forum, April 13, at 1:30 p.m. in the Sanctuary of Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church (LOPC), 49 Knox Drive, Lafayette. Please note this is the second Friday in April.

His lecture will examine the four distinct forms of global jihad by Muslim radicals that have been seen since the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan in the 1970s launched the first wave: "The fourth and current wave, a 'personal jihad,' represents the dominant form of terrorism in the world today and has proven to be rather durable. I will not only look back on some of the major events of global jihad, but also on what lies ahead."

Proficient in both written and spoken Arabic, Robinson has spent time in virtually every country in the Middle East and North Africa. He is the author or co-author of three books on Palestinian politics and development and is currently writing two books on jihad information strategy (Stanford University Press) and on the comparative politics of the Middle East (CQ Press).

Raised in Lafayette and a graduate of Acalanes High School, Robinson is a political scientist with over 35 years of experience studying and living in the Middle East. He has been on the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School since 1991. He earned both his BA (1982 with highest honors) and Ph.D. (1992) from the University of California, Berkeley. He has been a Fulbright Scholar at the University of Jordan and a Senior Political Scientist at the RAND Corporation and has studied at the American University in Cairo, Yarmouk University in Jordan and the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

A sought-after speaker, Robinson responds to frequent requests to comment on Middle East affairs by various media organizations including the PBS News Hour, National Public Radio and KCBS radio.

CONTRIBUTED PHOTO Glenn Robinson, Ph.D., will speak on "The Four Waves of Global Jihad" at April's Forum.

He has authored over 40 published journal articles and book chapters on Middle East political, development and security. He now lives in Pebble Beach with his wife, Elizabeth.

"Glenn has spoken twice before to large audiences at LOPC and is well known to many locals. His insightful knowledge of the Middle East makes him eminently qualified to speak on his chosen, and timely, topic," says Nancy Holtzapple, of the First Friday Forum Team. She extends an invite to all: "Come to enjoy refreshments and conversation at 1 p.m. in Fellowship Hall before the lecture."

Seniors now have easy access to rides on demand

By Amy Stice Co-founder, Arrive Rides

My grandmother, Nina, is in great health. She's 94 years old and recently got a five-year renewal on her driver's license, despite feeling nervous driving on the freeway. When she's going anywhere outside Moraga, she calls my aunt for a ride. If my aunt isn't available, Nina reschedules the appointment. The stress on Aunt Nan! Nina is confident on her feet and mentally sharp. All she needs is a driverwhich is what companies like Uber and Lyft do. They allow their users to order a ride through their smartphones. It's easy, and simple, and I use those services all the time myself. There was just one problem: Nina doesn't have a smartphone. We use Lyft and Uber's technology to see exactly where the car is at any given time, and ensure that the member is picked up as planned and on time. Any car dispatched can accommodate a foldable walker or wheelchair-so long as the member can move themselves from a mobility device into the car, the driver will handle collapsing the equipment and storing it in the trunk of the car. Many of Arrive's members let us know that they have a hard time getting into and out of SUVs; for those members we will always find a sedan. Arrive Rides charges $10/month as a membership fee, and ride costs are based on the time and distance of the trip, with a $12 minimum.

A fun kids' activity is set up every Saturday.

There are recycling containers located on site. Many growers and vendors also recycle glass jars, pint baskets or empty cardboard flats.

Ben the Broccoli is hiding at the market. Bring the kids to find him and claim a prize at the information table.

An information table is set up every Saturday. Stop by to ask questions, leave comments, catch up on local events or pick up a complimentary copy of Edible East Bay magazine

Tables and chairs are set up for your convenience along with some lively music.

Produce arrives by season; so, check weekly to see what's new.

Stay in touch on the market's Facebook page www.facebook.com/OrindaFarmersMarket, check out the website at www. cccfm.org, or if you have further questions, please call the market hotline at 925-431-8361.

Enjoy and see you at the market!

The Orinda market is open every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Orinda Way in front of the Community Park and Rite Aid.

Dracula. Cowler is looking for a number of adults to perform in this farce. Rehearsals begin in June. Performance dates are July 20, 21, 27, 28, 29, Aug. 2, 3, 4, 10 and 11.

I created Arrive Rides to solve this problem. What we do is simple: We connect people who don't have smartphones to the services of Lyft and Uber.

Arrive Rides members can call us from any type of phone—home phone, cell phone, the convenience desk of the grocery store—to request a ride. We handle the technology to dispatch a car through Lyft or Uber, and let our member know what kind of car is coming for them and when exactly it will arrive. We then call the driver to let them know how to find the member: "You're picking up my friend Gloria. She's a 70-year-old

The third production of the season is P.G. Wodehouse's Good Morning, Bill, directed by Eddie Peabody. Peabody, last seen on the OrSVP stage in the 2009 production of Cyrano, is excited to work with the company again. The veteran Lamorinda actor and director will need a number of adults for this classic comedy. Rehearsals begin in late July and performances are Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 7, 8, 14, 15, 21, 22, 23, 27, 28 and 29.

OrSVP is completely volunteer run and no one at the theatre is paid. Anyone who is interested in any aspect of theater who would like to help is encouraged to contact the group at www.orsvp.org or 925-528-9225. "This is a great place to get your feet wet in community theater," enthuses Suzan Lorraine. "So, do come play with us."

For all auditions, please come prepared to read from the scripts for the directors. No prepared monologues are necessary. For more information, call 925-528-9225 or email info@orsvp.org.

Oakland-native playwright Marcus Gardley reimagines Homer's Greek masterpiece. "The audience and critical response was overwhelmingly positive," notes Ting, who directs.

Ting is committed to redefining the boundaries of classical theater for the 21st century, producing new works inspired by classic texts and presenting Shakespeare that engages with the contemporary moment. "Who we are as a people, as human beings, is in no small part defined by the stories that we were raised on," continues Ting. "Stories, in their way, teach us how to be human. Julia Kadie (2nd from right) and Annabel Lee (far right) prompt panelists with questions.

sub-group of the Orinda Junior Wom-Aan's Club, Miramonte's Orinda Juniorettes once again presented a city-wide Women in Leadership Panel after school at Miramonte High School. Annabel Lee and Julia Kadie, co-presidents of the club this year, organized the event, which was attended by 138 people. The panelists consisted of two lawyers, a biology professor from St. Mary's, a professor and women's rights activist and the founder of the intuitive Writing Project. Last year, the panel included a lawyer, a school board member, the mayor and a civil engineer.

Kadie and Lee prompted the women with questions ranging from the challenges they face as women leaders in their respective fields to how men can be allies to women in leadership roles. "With each story told and

By ROXANNE CHRISTOPHE DAVIS Contributing Writer

The Girls Makers' Market will host its ▲ inaugural event – a marketplace where young entrepreneurs can share ideas and sell their wares – on May 6 from 2 - 4 p.m. at the Quarry House at Wilder.

A mini-marketing session on April 15 from 4:30 – 6 p.m. at Alain Pinel Terrace, 2 Theatre Square, in Orinda. The session will be led by some of the "girlpreneurs" who are already selling on Etsy or at local Farmers Markets.

each piece of advice given, young women in our community are shown examples of women who have ascended to leadership positions in government, business and STEAM fields," says Kadie. "Additionally, at lunchtime, the club members lay out papers on the quad. Written on each is a different Mad Libs-style fill in the blank such as 'So and so inspires me through her leadership in whatever field.' After someone writes a shoutout, we tape them to a poster behind us, providing recognition for women leaders in our community."

As a result, I have clients who have been with me 30 years, and I have worked by word of mouth referral throughout all this time," says Winter.

Non-profit Bay Area Consumers' Check Book recognized Total Clean with a rating for both quality and price in the Winter 2018 survey. This independent entity incorporates ratings and reviews by Consumers' Check Book and Consumer Reports subscribers when compiling its ratings. "We are the only East Bay house cleaning company that received rating for both quality and price," notes Winter.

Winter is married to Lafayette Elementary School science teacher Jonathan Winter. The couple resides in Moraga and has two adult children. A dressage rider since childhood, Winter enjoys dressage riding three or four times a week these days. Husband Jonathan prefers cycling in his free time.

Sophie Braccini, the Orinda Chamber of Commerce collaborates with neighboring Lafayette Chamber of Commerce and Moraga Chamber of Commerce in presenting a special forum, Non-Profit Best Practices, at the Orinda Community Center on Monday, April 15, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. in Room 7.

"All Orinda non-profits are welcome to attend this free event. We are grateful to the City of Orinda for providing this venue at the Community Center for us at no charge," says Sophie Braccini. "What motivated the three Chambers to organize this event is the fact that we each have several events throughout the year, but we have not focused on non-profit enterprises," she explains.

"There are several non-profit entities in Orinda, including the larger ones such as the Orinda Association, Cal Shakes and the Educational Foundation of Orinda. There are smaller ones such as Families Without Borders and SunJams Foundation, that are managed by our residents, many of whom have other full-time jobs," adds Braccini. "This forum brings everyone together to brainstorm and share best practices."

The evening is composed of four parts, with a focus on securing grant funding and addressing the specific needs of nonprofits. Moraga based non-profit Contra Costa County Climate Leaders will discuss its best practices, focusing on marketing and communications outreach. The forum provides ample opportunity for mingling and networking for all.

"The Chevron Community Outreach Foundation will discuss how a non-profit should present itself in the quest to secure grant funding. We realize the very big issue for non-profits is obtaining adequate funding and believe this gathering will be helpful in this regard, as well as a resource for non-profits," says Braccini.

Amer Budayr, Orinda resident and founder of Sun Jams Foundation, an organization that promotes education through music in public school districts where they do not always have resources to devote to music curriculum, is optimistic about this Tri-Chamber event: "This forum is needed in our community for non-profits to get better acquainted and share best practices. It will help create and establish cohesion for our non-profit community."

Winter is an active, hands-on, on-site manager, overseeing a staff of 20 employees at the company's office located at 1605 School Street, Suite 106 in Moraga.

"I was working my way through school - I was studying at Saint Mary's College - and the business just evolved. I did not set out to establish something long-term. It just began as a small experiment with two employees and kept growing and growing. My brain is wired for business, and I think I would have succeeded without earning my business degree," smiles Winter.

HEALTHY HOMES with "Fresh Air Ventilation"

ena o our ability decreases over time and we get sick more often. We spend between 30% to 70% of our lives at home and we think our homes are a safe-haven to rest and rejuvenate. But we are breathing unhealthy air taxing our immune system

We started our company to improve indoor air quality by increasing ventilation, removing moisture and mold, and at the same time creating an energy-efficient environment.

@ Net Zero Energy Architects we know your connection to the earth and sun results in home comfort and health. Our system eliminates unhealthy crawl and attic space containments exposed to our indoor air quality.

Our GeoSolar-System requires encapsulation of the crawlspace and air sealing of the attic to enable the integration of Fresh-Air / Energy-Recovery. Our system provides conditioning of the crawlspace by utilizing earth temperature during the cooling season and attic temperature during the heating season providing fresh GeoSolar air delivered through the HVAC distribution system.

It is hard to put a price on good health. The fact that you can save 50 to 80% on heating and cooling bills is a bonus and return on your investment (ROI) for the life of the home.
